

Creative Cities are not just good places to live, work and build a career. They are successful cities that attract talented people, who attract investment and create jobs.

CreaCities: Your Guide to Belonging

Over 29 million people work in creative industries around the world, shaping the global creative revolution that is forging new rules and systems drawing the current economic map!

But where are they located? How have they managed to build their creative networks? They have been able to turn their cities into global references by making them creative cities. How have they done it? Would you like to explore these cities and become a part of the creative community?

We have developed the CreaCities program, a new initiative which is meant to strengthen your creative business by unlocking your potential and giving you access to international counterparts. Get inspired and exchange knowledge and experiences in this space for tomorrow's creative leaders.

Discover CreaCities

CreaCities is an international professional accelerator program aimed at individuals who want to expand their professional skills and networks.

It provides an opportunity to explore, connect and interact with the creative ecosystem of the world's most dynamic and creative cities. Delving into key creative sectors and industries such as design, art, sports, gastronomy, tourism, and architecture, among others, you will have the opportunity to meet face to face with industry leaders, attend workshops, talks and sessions, and ask for their feedback through online sessions, all while having the chance to explore their creative cities.

Connect with the next leaders in the creative fields and build your network.

CreaCities Step by Step
